

Helen M. Willis
helen_willis@berkeley.edu

Education:

2016—2022 (exp.)	PhD in Economics, University of California—Berkeley
2010—2014	B.A. in Economics summa cum laude , Wellesley College

Works in Progress:

“Regulation and market power: Evidence from the manufactured housing industry”

Published Work:

Keskin, Pinar, Gauri Kartini Shastry and Helen Willis. “Water Quality Awareness and Breastfeeding: Evidence of Health Behavior Change in Bangladesh,” 2017. The Review of Economics and Statistics, 99(2), pages 265-280.

Research Employment:

2019—Present	Research Assistant for Professor Manisha Padi, Berkeley Law
2017	Research Assistant for Professor Hoai-Luu Nguyen, Haas School of Business
2014—2016	Research Assistant, Financial Structure Section, Federal Reserve Board
2013—2014	Case Fellow for Professor Phillip Levine, Wellesley College
2012—2014	Research Assistant for Professor Pinar Keskin, Wellesley College

Teaching Assistant Experience:

Fall 2019	Econ 140 (Undergraduate Econometrics), UC Berkeley
Spring 2019	Econ 2 (Introduction to Economics), UC Berkeley
Fall 2018	Econ 100B (Intermediate Macroeconomics), UC Berkeley
Spring 2014	Econ 203 (Undergraduate Econometrics), Wellesley College
Fall 2012, 2013	Econ 103 (Intro to Probability and Statistics), Wellesley College

Fellowships and Awards:

2020-2021	Fisher Center for Real Estate & Urban Economics Research Grant
2019	Outstanding Graduate Student Instructor Award
2016—2018	Berkeley Graduate Fellowship
2014	Natalie Bolton Faculty Prize in Economics (Best 300-level paper)
2014	Schiff Honors Thesis Fellowship

Citizenship: USA